Course Instructor:

John McDermott, HP Education Services - Portfolio Manager, IT Service Management

John has 20+ years experience in IT Service Management and holds the ITIL Managers Certificate and an accredited “ITIL Expert”. His service management career began in the 1980’s where he first began using the original Best Practice guidelines from the CCTA now the OGC. He introduced ITIL best practice throughout Berkshire County Council dealing with the cultural issues as well as the framework and process implementation.

For 3 years John devoted his time working for the itSMF (IT Service Management Forum), the world-wide user group in Service Management. During this time he participated in and assisted many committees including BS15000 now ISO20000. Active as the subject matter expert he was the focal point for Service Management issues and enquiries from anyone inside or outside the itSMF community. He has been described as an ITIL evangelist, being asked to present to audiences of varying sizes and stature, in addition to facilitating discussion groups – all focused on bringing IT and business closer together and changing the perception of IT from being seen as a “business cost” to that of providing “business value”.
